Definition of Categories:

Network Facilities Providers

Who are the owners of facilities such as satellite earth stations, broadband fibre optic cables, telecommunication lines and exchanges, radio communications transmission equipment, mobile communications base stations, and broadcasting transmission towers and equipment. They are the fundamental building block of the convergence model upon which network, applications and content services are provided.

Network Service Providers

Who provide the basic connectivity and bandwidth to support a variety of applications. Network services enable connectivity or transport between different networks. A network service provider is typically also the owner of the network facilities. However, a connectivity service may be provided by a person using network facilities owned by another.

Applications Service Providers

Who provide particular functions such as voice services, data services, content-based services, electronic commerce and other transmission services. Application services are essentially the functions or capabilities, which are delivered to end-users.

Content Applications Service Providers

Who are special subset of applications service providers including traditional broadcast services and newer services such as online publishing and information services.

Civil Groups

Any organization whose objectives are exclusively to promote the interests of the community which shall include but not limited to consumer interests, women's issues, children's issues, youth issues and religious harmony issues or any non-profit institution of higher learning and which is registered as a society under the Societies Act 1966 or as a company limited by guarantee under the Companies Act 1965 or as a statutory body.
